

when hurrying thousands crowded to its shores. What does this mean? Our neighbor certainly can have no idea of moving there. We really hope not. We could not do without him. He must remain. We made him the elector last summer. We may make him the candidate for Congress this summer.

The True Whig has nearly a column upon the next canvass. The greater part of it is a paraphrase upon an article on the same subject in the Union. This is right in our neighbor, and indicates a proper spirit. Our neighbor though follows the text too closely. He does not make the proper allowances for differing circumstances. For instance, he says, "whigs recognize not a contest for men, but for principle." Now, it is all appropriate enough for democrats to write about principles, but it is ludicrous for whigs to do it. A few whigs may pretend to have a relic of principle, but it is like the tattered cloak of an Italian grandee—a

The American has an article on the next Administration—removals from office.

The Banner has little or no editorial. Our neighbor is very irregular in his political lucubrations. During a canvass, or when capital is to be made for his party, our neighbor seems at fever heat. Italics, startling capitals, big capitals, and all the variety of typographical modes of arresting attention stud his columns like pothooks and hangers in a boys copy book. But when the sea is calm, and nothing is to be made by these "tricks of the trade," our neighbor is as quiet as a lamb. Such is his present position.

Mrs. BOSTWICK.—This lady, who has considerable reputation, gives a concert to night. The programme presents a number of pieces which cannot fail to attract all lovers of music. We hope that our citizens will give Mrs. B. a full house.

MILITARY PARADES.—Last Saturday being the eighth of January, our two military companies turned out, the Nashville Grays, and the Governor's Light Guards. They presented a fine military on-

By the way, the practice of celebrating national anniversaries is fast going out of fashion. We are sorry to see it. The twenty-second of February, fourth of July, eighth of January, and other days, which in the "good old days" were celebrated by orations, balls, barbecues, &c., now pass off unnoticed and unhonored. We affect no sickly sentimentalities, social, political or any other sort. But we do think that this indifference to anniversaries is but a poor commentary upon the patriotism and pride of American citizens. It is true that these sentiments exist as strong with the present generation.

tion, perhaps as with that which preceded it, and that they are only dormant. But we should recollect that our feelings, if allowed to be dormant, will soon lose all vitality and cease to exist at all. This is a principle of human nature from the operation of which it is impossible to escape. It is as much the duty of the citizen to cultivate feelings of patriotism as it is to cultivate feelings of charity, good neighborhood, or religion. This age is a little too practical in its aims and objects. Physical progress with its thousand modes of development is too exclusively the characteristic of the age. Man has other duties to perform besides making railroads or making money. And their neglect is censurable.

DESIRABLE FARM FOR RENT.—In our advertising columns will be found a notice of a very desirable farm for rent, to which we call attention. Major Work wishes to rent the place at which he is now residing, well known as the Hadley place. Few more desirable country residences are to be found in the country.
